Dear Sirs:-

We acknowledge receipt of your favor of February 7th, requesting us to send you specimens of our work, as you may eventually wish to issue securities engraved and printed in the manner at present customary in this country.

We are pleased to be able to inform you that we have an office in Paris, in charge of our representative Mr. Henri J. Boulvin, the address of which is: 136, Avenue des Champs-Elysées, - where we have a large variety of specimens. Our Mr. Boulvin is at present absent from Paris, as he is traveling for us on business, but we have written to his Secretary - Mr. Claude Tiers, informing him of your request and instructing him to call upon you and submit to you for examination such specimens as you may desire from our collection.

If you do not find anything suitable amongst them we shall be glad to prepare a special book of specimens of bonds, stock certificates and such other securities of a similar nature which you would be likely to need, if

We enclose herewith copy of a letter which we have received from the above bank, together with copy of our reply thereto, which is self-explanatory.

We suggest that you call upon the bank and find out exactly what class of securities they are especially interested in, so that you may submit to them for examination such specimens as you have in your office,- making note at the same time, of any remarks they may make and any expressions as to what other classes of work they wish to see specimens of.

As the greatest care should always be taken of our specimens, be sure to make a list of any which you may leave with them and obtain a receipt for them.

As you will see from the copy of the letter we have addressed to the bank, we shall be glad to prepare for them at any time a special set of specimens if they will let us know what class of securities they are interested in.

Please do not fail to bring this matter to Mr. Boulvin's attention upon his return to Paris, as it will give him the opening to call upon them. We are sending ~~also~~ a copy of this correspondence to Mr. Boulvin at Athens.

Yours very truly,

CTB/IW

Dear Mr. Boulvin:-

BANQUE DE PARIS & DES PAYS-BAS, Paris

We are pleased to send you herewith copy of a letter recently received from the above bank, as also copy of our reply thereto as well as to the Paris Office. We thought you might like to know of this inquiry, which came during your absence in Greece, in case you cared to communicate to him any ideas you may have concerning his handling of this matter, in the event of your being absent from Paris for any length of time.

Yours very truly,

Manager Foreign Department

I received your letter of February 21st with copies of correspondence exchanged by you with the above named.

My call on them brought out the fact that their enquiry had been directed to you in anticipation of the closing of a deal, then being negotiated, but which has meantime fallen through.

My informant, a Mr. Giraud, examined the specimens submitted with much interest while assuring me that he was far from unacquainted with our work, as American securities frequently passed through his hands.

I was told that circumstances similar to those attending their present enquiry might occur again in the future, in which case they would apply to this office.

This, by the way, is not the first time that I have approached this important establishment, as no doubt did my predecessors. While we stand no chance in European issues, the situation is quite different when U.S. issues are contemplated by European banks.

Yours very truly,

H. B. Sulvin

We have for acknowledgment your letter of March 7th, in which you advise us of your call upon the above bank, to inquire about the prospective business they had, in view of their request to examine some of our specimens.

We have taken note that in accordance with the information you received from Mr. Giraud, their inquiry to us was made in anticipation of some prospective business they were then negotiating but which since has fallen through.

We are glad you have had this opportunity of again calling upon the bank, and to know you are watching any new business that may come up through them.
